MiScore App Change: COVID Local Rules Withdrawal

Golf Australia have advised the removal of COVID19 Rules to conclude by the end of April 2023.

Golf Australia today have advised the removal of COVID19 Rules to conclude by the end of April 2023. This will affect clubs currently using the self-score submission method. Clubs already using the player's marker recording method will incur no change.

To comply with these requirements the MiScore App will be amended to have the player's marker record the scores and submit at conclusion. This will include capturing both player and markers signatures prior to score submission.

Once implemented, for a pairing whom both players score via the app they will record each other's score, sign and submit.

In the circumstance of a pairing whereby only one player is using the app, the app user will need to source a physical scorecard to provide to their marker.

MiClub will action this change to the MiScore App between 24th and 28th April, which will be applied in an update to the system during the evening so not to affect daily competitions. This will ensure the deadline of 1 May 2023 as per notice from Golf Australia is achieved.

The image shows two screenshots from the MiScore app. The top screenshot is for a player named Peter Maddison with a handicap of 7. It displays a scorecard with a total score of 38, hole scores of 17 (holes 1-9) and 21 (holes 10-18). Below the scorecard are two signature fields: one for Chris Little (marked with a red 'x') and one for Peter Maddison (also marked with a red 'x'). A grey button at the bottom says 'AGREE AND SIGN'. The bottom screenshot is for a marker named Chris Little with a handicap of 3. It displays a scorecard with a total score of 39, hole scores of 18 (holes 1-9) and 21 (holes 10-18). To the right of the screenshots, text explains that both signatures are required and that the marker records and submits the player's score.

Both the player and marker signatures will be required to submit the score

The marker will record and submit the players score.

Prior to this changeover, MiClub will provide a set of instructions to clubs to provide to members explaining the changes within the MiScore app.

Both signatures are digitally recorded in the MiClub Golf system along with hole-by-hole score entries for both devices for committee/staff reference.

We would encourage you to communicate this coming change to members at your club via club newsletter and on your website.
